Mining Man Kills Mad Bad Bear, Avoids Hug

E. DeWein and C. C. Crawford, walking out from Alleghany one day last week to inspect the DeWein mining property, the Dipper Consolidated, had a narrow escape from an angry bear.

The two were accompanied by Crawford's dog which began to whimper as they entered a narrow trail hedged in by manzanita. Somewhat curious regarding the dog's demeanor, Crawford, who was carrying a rifle over his shoulder brought it down under his arm.

Suddenly from out the brush burst a 400 pound black bear. He had scented the dog and was apparently ready to give battle to all comers. He reared up on his hind legs directly in front of the two men, gave an angry grunt and started to shuffle toward them with arms outspread in the approved manner of a bear intent on grappling with his foe.

Crawford had no time to raise his gun to his shoulder but fired from his hip, hitting the bear in the neck, as was afterward proved. Both men backed hastily away and as the bear still shuffled forward, Crawford fired again, and this time the bear toppled over with a bullet through his heart.

As it is closed season for bears, the matter was reported to the Alleghany officers, the carcass was given to the Nevada City Red Cross and the meat distributed among the needy through Mrs. William C. Perry, a member of the committee.

FREAK ACCIDENT GIVES MINER NARROW ESCAPE

A freak accident occurred at the Cyclone mine recently in which Elmer Peterson was severely burned and nearly blinded.

He had poured water in a gas tank and was cleaning it out near the entrance to the Cyclone mine Peterson left a carbide lamp burning about seven or eight feet away. A gust of air carried the flame from the lamp to ignite the gas fumes.

In a flash a jet of flame shot out of the other end of the tank about four inches wide and struck him on the cheeks, about the eyes and on his forehead searing his face and scorching his hair and eyelashes.

After the accident he filled the tank with gasoline and got it in shape for the men to use in their mine operations he then came to Dr. W. Reed in Nevada City for treatment.

Bandages have been taken off in the last few days and he will suffer no ill effects from the accident.

When told he had a narrow escape he remarked, "Oh! Its all in a day's work."

FRISKY TURTLE FLEES SHERIFF, FALLS 2 STORIES

There was quite a bit of excitement a few days ago at the Nevada City court house when Al Capone, dwarf turtle, and a recent arrival from the "windy city" of Chicago, escaped from his quarters.

After a search by several of the Court House staff it was found Capone had crawled out on the window ledge and fallen two stories landing in a rose bush a few feet from the ground suffering no injuries.

This Japanese turtle, about the size of a dollar was sent to Sheriff George R. Carter by his father, Randolph Carter, when he attended the Chicago Century of Progress fair recently.

POWER SHOVEL PLAYS HAVOC WITH PHONE LINE

CAMPTONVILLE, Oct. 16th.—A gas power shovel of considerable dimensions, being brought into this section by a bay district contracting firm to excavate a ditch from the "True Grit" Mine to Oregon Creek, preparatory to mining activities this winter, passed through town Saturday enroute to the property, and in passing from Jackson street into Spring Street, the top of the shovel knocked down one telephone pole and broke all the farmer Pacific Telephone and Telegraph lines leading from town to the operator's residence. The lines and pole were repaired by the driver of the shovel assissted by Forest Ranger Frank W Meggers and Fire Guard Albert H. Hamilton.

Unemployed In State Now Total100000

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 16-(U.P.)—California already has an army of 100,000 transient unemployed and may expect a "substantial increase in this number during the winter," according to a survey just completed by the state emergency relief administration.

"The census conducted throughout the state by relief administration indicated that of the 100,000 transients, 23 per cent are women and girls," the report stated. "The census included a check of the so-called "jungles" in the environs of the larger cities, cheap lodging houses and auto camps, highway quarantine stations and all rail and other carriers over which the transients move."

Transients Expected To Increase

"From infromation gathered, it is estimated that a substantial increase in the number of transients may be expected this winter. The 10 counties offering the greatest attraction for transients are Los Angeles, Fresno, San Francisco, Tulare, Stanislaus, Alameda, Sacramento, Riverside and San Joaquin.

"The possibility of employment, though usually remote, appeared to be the principle lure as far as these other conditions such as mild climate and warm nights figured very strongly, in the final analysis."

Large Percentage Of Hoboes

Considered a significant conclusion, the census report pointed out:

"At the bottom of the stream of transients following the age old ways of vagrancy is the pre-depression type of hobo. He considers theu type of hobo. He constitlutes in the aggregate perhaps 10 of 15 per cent of the total. Swinging along with this undercurrent are the newer itinerants who have picked up the practices and interests of the hobo during the last two or three years, perhaps an additional 25 or 30 per cent of the total. Thus, somewhere around 40 or 50 per cent of the transients in California may be segregated as persons permanently given over to foraging, free riding, begging for food and money, lingering in bread lines and sleeping in the most inexpensive lodging places.

"When there is a temptation to commit depredations along railroad rights of way, the code of the hobo comes in to protect life and property. Transients on the move generally appear to lack gang or mass tendencies to crime."

Run for Mayor Of New York

Nationwide interest in the New York City mayoralty race deepened with the announcement of Joseph V. McKee, above, that he would run as an independent Democrat. McKee's opponents in the race are Major Fiorello H. La Guardia, below, independent Republican, fusion candidate; and the present mayor, John P. O'Brien, Tammany Hall candidate.

CYCLONE GRAVEL MINE DRIVES 200 FT TUNNEL

At the Cyclone mine near North Bloomfield a crew of men have driven a tunnel about 200 feet and are now running a raise at the end of the tunnel with the expectation of striking a rich gravel channel which runs through the property and has produced well when tapped in other ground nearby.

A tunnel was run several years ago but upon making a raise it was discvered they were not in the main channel and further work was abandoned until recently when P. C. Peterson and son, Elmer, decided to drive the tunnel ahead and seek for the richer gravel.

Banner Post Elects Distinguished Officers

Banner Mountain Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on Friday evening elected Major Frank Chapman, commander; Doctor Frank McCullough, senior vice commander; John Marks, junior vice commander; E. F. Raymond, quartermaster; and "Al" Kelliher, officer of the day; Edward Rose was elected as chaplain.

The new commander is a retired army officer of the regular army and has served his country in practically every post on the mainland and in many of the posts abroad. Dr. McCullough served through the late World War as lieutenant colonel in the U. S. Medical Corps. John Marks is probably the only veteran in California to hold a medal in the Order of the Purple Heart, a congressional honor, instituted by George Washington and revived by President Herbert Hoover, for valor. E. F. Raymond served in the U. S. Signal Corps thru the Spanish American War and was telegrapher in Gen. F. Funston in the Philippines. "Al" Kelliher was in the transport service under Admiral Dewey and in more recent years has been an assemblyman in the Nevada State legislature.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Banner Mountain Post elected the following officers:

Hazel Figurski, president; Blanche Williams, Sr., vice president; Jessie Costa, Jr., Vice president; Mary Tonella, treasurer; Margaret Tonella, chaplain; Agnes Taylor, guard; and Nancy James, trustee.

HUNTER TO ADVERTISE FOR DEER WITH HORNS

Ben Bowman, of the tonsorial firm of Bowman & Bowman, has hunted the noble buck every spare moment he can get away from his office this season. Several times he has almost got his deer. Once dogs chased a deer right through his territory right into his arms so to speak, but he wasn't quite quick enough with Old Faithful.

Now he has decided too advertise for a deer. It must have horns, and four legs, and be a gentle variety that does not flick its tail derisively when fired at, at say about twenty yards—more or less.

The trouble is, according to Mr. Bowman, the deer in this country are really too small to provide a fair target. Bowman spent years in the mule deer country in Modoc county, between California and Oregon, and is used to a sizeable decent target when he is all primed and ready to shoot.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT SLIPS FALLS. BREAKS ARM

Jim Stephens, a sophomore at the Nevada City high school, while playing volley ball with several other students slipped and fell on the cement pavement breaking two bones in his forearm near the elbow, last Friday afternoon.

He entered Jones Memorial hospital today where Drs. Reed and Jones cut the arm open and wired the breaks. It is expected he will be well enough to return home in a few days.

Jim Stephens is employed at Harris' Drug store as an assistant before and after school, Saturday and holidays. He is liked by all who know him for his industry and pleasing manners.

LEGION AND HI BAND IN N R A PARADE SATURDAY

Last Friday evening an N. R. A. Prosperity Parade was held in both Grass Valley and Nevada City. The marchers first paraded in Grass Valley, and later in the evening entertained Nevada City.

The sections that marched in Grass Valley were the American Legion Color Guard, Drum and Bugle Corps, and the Nevada City High School Band. They proceeded from the upper end of Broad Street down to the Plaza on lower Broad street. There after playing several fine selections, they disbanded. The onlookers were much pleased with the music on such short notice.

Misses Margaret and Ruth Rector and Beth Curnow ,students at the U. C. Berkeley, spent the week end with their parents in Nevada City.

Mr. and Mrs. George Coughlan of Auburn spent the week end in Nevada City with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Coughlan and attended the Steger-McCormack wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rowe and son, Jerry, of Sacramento attended the McCormack-Steger wedding Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deeble of San Francisco arrived in Nevada City Friday for a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Madge Schwartz.

Frank Clark who has been developing some mining ground north of Downieville, was in Nevada City recently.

John McKee of San Francisco spent last week end up on the Tahoe Ukiah highway with his father, Attorney H. M. McKee.

Highway Board Speeds Construction Program

SACRAMENTO, Calif.Oct. 16(UP) California now is experiencing one of the most extensive highway building campaigns in the history of the state.

Records of the state department of public works show that in less than two months, work orders calling for the expenditure of more than $7,000,000 have been issued.

Specifically, since the high speed program was inaugurated August 22 in keeping with national recovery program, the department has awarded 86 contracts totaling $7,257,830. And additional calls for bids are under preparation.

In keeping with the department slogan to have "50,000 men at work by Christmas," every possible short cut is being taken to speed up the actual work on the various projects.

At a recent bid opening, Eric Cullenward, deputy director of public works, urged that every effort be made to get men and equipment on the jobs and asked bonding companies to reduce the time in underwriting bonds.

"For our part," Cullenward said, "we are cooperating by awarding contracts within a day or two after bids are opened, speeding up the acceptance of bonds and approval of contracts, cutting all red tape tending to delay the beginning of work on all contracts."

This plan of speeding up work at this time is considered of particular importance inasmuch as a large part of the funds spent on public works goes for labor thus reducing unemplyment.

Under state requirements this labor is enlisted directly from local community aid rolls so that every public works dollar may go where it is most needed, officials said.

Section No. 2 was presided over by Miss G. Kent. Leo Baisden, assistant superintendent of schools of Sacramento, explained "A Modern Reading Program."

FOUR DREDGERS WORK YUBA RIVER GRAVEL

Four gold dredgers are at work on the Yuba River twenty miles below Grass Valley and a fifth dredger is being dismantled and will be assembled on the ground at the Hammonton site, where values warrant dredging operations.

Drunken Drivers Tell It To Judge

A. J. Shuman, Grass Valley, charged with driving a car while drunk ,appeared before Justice of the Peace W. L. Mobley this morning and was held to answer in the superior court. Bail was fixed at $1,000 cash or $2,000 bonds. Failing toproduce bail Shuman was returned to the county jail.

Shuman while driving along Broad street a week ago yesterday crashed into the parked car of Dr. W. P. Sawyer, badly damaging it.

Another man accused of drunken driving to appear before Judge Mobley this morning was Emil Abadie. His preliminary hearing was set over till next Wednesday on request of the defense.

Officers report that Abadie, a well known mining man of Placerville, formerly of this city, was driving Saturday morning with Jack Corcoran as a passenger. He attempted to pass another car, just beyond the western end of the Gault bridge. He swerved too far to the right as he passed and went over the bank. Corcoran went through the windshield and suffered several cuts and bruises which were treated by Dr. W. W. Reed.

Abadie was arrested by Traffic Inspector Frank Quinn and Capt. Joe Blake. His bail set at $1,000, he failed to provide and was remanded to jail. Deputy District Attorney Robert Tharp prosecuted the two.

ZEABRIGHT MINE IS PREPARING FOR WINTER

Construction work preparatory to facing winter conditions is being pushed at the Zeabright mine in the Bear Valley. Under Superintendent E. Holm and Manager Ellsworh Bennett, a blacksmith shop has been completed. Wood is being hauled in for the cold months. The mill is running steadily, crushing 35 tons of ore daily, using the plating process. A tunnel is being driven for development work only. The ledge of 16 feet is unusually wide. Twenty men are steadily employed and everthing points to steady work this winter.

William Nilon of San Francisco spent a few days in Nevada City with his parents, Judge and Mrs. F. M. Nilon.

BEES ESTABLISH NICE COLONY IN WINDOW

"Al" Kelliher, who has the contract to dismantle the buildings and machinery at the "Too Handy mine", made a curious discovery Saturday. In the gable end of the hoist house facing the head frame was a big windaw provided with a shade. After the property was closed, this window was boarded up. Between the boards and the window panes, a colony of bees made their home. Now by raising the windaw shade the whole internal economy of the bees' home is revealed. Kelliher declares it is a far better exposition of the bee family life than those usually seen at the state fair exhibits of bees at work at their trade of making honey in glass cases.

WEEKLY COMMENT

By
CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

With the family I went hunting wild grapes one day last week. We had a good time what with picnicing and all that went with it.

We found a few of them but not enough for the grape jelly appetite worked up during the hunt. We stopped at Eden's along the road and there we bought some delicious tame grapes and some fine apples and also ordered a gallon of apple cider which will coming along at a later date. We had the time of our lives and especially the kiddies. I guess the farmer in most of us will come to the surface when the proper inspiration is found.

There is one curve in the road to Sierra City, just as it leaves Downieville city limits that is saucered just right for speed and one can safely "Barney Oldfield" this curve to the hearts content—and did we do it.

Regardless of the advantage or disadvantage to this or to that business there seems to be only one logical street to be used as the state highway through town, that is, Sacramento street. The other street under consideration is entirely too narrow, with no possibility for widening without a great deal of expense, at a time when money is not too plentiful.

Any town that has amounted to anything (no matter what size) has often had some man whose big ideas have helped more than anything else to make the town grow. Denver had one man who practically made the town and was its mayor. The man's name was Speer.

Nevada City has its opportunity—NOW as never before to be a big little city of the mountain region. But Nevada City does not need to think that she can do all of these things without having an influx of new people, for that is just what it takes to make a city.

You know I told you about some wild grapes we got this week. Well, we made jelly of them today and we had good luck, beautiful in color and nice to eat, due to the good wife's ability.

Hitler looms large in the headlines these days. His talk convinces me that he is a great man in himself. I am not speaking of his methods, only of the man himself. He appears to be literally burning up with patriotism. It is hard to disassociate Hitler and the Germany of today from the Germany of Kaiser Bill's time.

Fall time makes me think of the little town in Illinois where I went to high school. For one mile on one side of the main artery road, into the town there was a row of walnut trees set very close together.
At this time of year these trees had lost their leaves but they were not more beautiful at any time of the year. For the nuts were ripe and we went there with clubs and bags to get our share.

Yes, and in the same town we rented a five room house and a half acre of land for five dollars per month, raised our own potatoes and all the vegetables we needed. Milik at 10 cents a gallon, still we had a hard time to get along.

EAGLE BIRD MINE WILL SINK INCLINE SHAFT

The "Eagle Bird" mine near the little town of Washington, under the management of J. W. Still, is making satisfactory progress. The headframe is practically complete and this morning the first steps toward sinking the incline shaft to deeper levels were taken. Twenty men are employed and work is progressing on the skipway.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howell left Saturday for their home in the bay district after spending the summer at their mining property on White Cloud east of Nevada City.

Guard Kellys on Way to Kidnaping Trial

Shackled, under a heavy guard and with a machine gun trained on him, George (Machine Gun) Kelly, above right, found it hard to maintain the bold, defiant attitude that had been his since federal operatives closed in on him in Memphis. With his wife, Katherine, center, he is shown in Oklahoma City, where he was taken for trial in connection with the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, millionaire oil man.

Miss Erma McCormack Bride Of Robert Steger

The Episcopal church presented a beautiful scene Saturday evening when Miss Irma McCormack became the bride of Robert J. Steger. The Episcopal service was read by Rev. Charles F. Washburn, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and close friends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of satin and carried a bouquet of yellow butterfly roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Beth Steger, the bridegroom's sister, bridesmaid, wore a gown of turquoise blue satin and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Noble McCormack, Jr., brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Donald Steger and John Bray.

The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. McCormack. She received her early education in the local schools later graduating from San Jose normal. From there she entered the Roseville schools as a teacher.

The groom, a young man of sterling qualities, also graduated from the local schools, later accepting a position with the Pacific Gas & Electric company in San Francisco. He returned here and has entered the contracting field with his father and brother.

Both young people are natives of Nevada City and highly respected and loved by a wide circle of friends.

Lloyd Penrose and assistants attractviely decorated the chancel of the Episcopal church for the wedding with yellow button chrysanthemums. Betty Martin West played Lohengrin's wedding march and accompanied Mrs. Lyda Talbot, who sweetly sang "At Dawning."

After the ceremony, performed at eigt o'clock, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The newly weds departed after a merry time and will spend their honeymoon in San Francisco. They will reside in an apartment on Broad street.

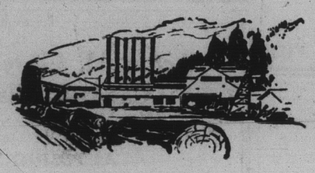
The Cost of Living turns upward—



TIMBER is being cut in the mountains. Mills are busy. Ships sail out the Golden Gate heavy laden. Lumber is in demand and the price is going up.

THE GOLD TOWNS in northern California foothills look like old times again. Night shifts are going down into the shafts. New tunnels follow rich veins. There is demand for gold and the price is going up.

PROFIT CROPS are growing, being harvested and sold in the Great Valleys. Canneries have increased their output. Pickers, packers and cannery workers are at work at better wages. The day of profit crops is here and the price of farm produce is going up.

IN THE CITIES everything is costing more. Shoes, stockings, shirts ... milk, butter, eggs, meat ... paper, printing, paint, hardware. The index of the cost of living is moving upward, steadily, surely.

Far below this upward-trending curve of the cost of living is the cost of electricity for the home. Even when living costs were depressed to the lowest point, the cost of electricity was 53 per cent below the lowest low of general living costs.

Electricity, through the comforts and conveniences it brings into the home, gives you more for your dollar than any dollar you spend.
